BANGALORE: The NICE company, the project proponent undertaking the Bangalore Mysore Infrastructure Corridor (BMIC) project, has submitted a scheme seeking to provide 40% developed land as compensation to land losers of the First Township (corporate township) coming up near Bidadi.

The company had challenged the state government's decision to appoint a price advisory committee to fix compensation. It came up with the scheme after a division bench headed by Justice H Billappa suggested it come up with a solution acceptable and beneficial to land losers, the government and company itself.
